Miss Neva Turner of the Omaha High school will speak on "Marketing and Accounts" before the household economics department of the South Omaha Women's club, which meets Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Lee. Elections and the Baby Health show, besides looking for club quarters have occupied the Omaha Woman's club during the last week. Last Monday new officers for the club proper were elected. Thursday the household economics and Friday the French departments elected new leaders. This week, Tuesday the current topics and Thursday the art and music departments will choose their leaders for the ensuing year, while the literature and social science sections have reserved their election day until later. The club members are bending every effort toward success for the household economics department's bureau of efficiency and the social science department's Baby Health exhibit. They are especially interested in these features because of their educational value and because it was along these lines that the Household show, which they had planned last year to be carried out. The Household show was never realized because of the tornado. About thirty members of the club inspected the Swedish auditorium Thursday morning with a view to its desirability for club rooms. The matter will be voted upon at the next club meeting April 27. The Benson Woman's club will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. L. A. Simons, "Seville, in Spain," will be the subject of the program. Gist of Falls City, the state secretary, without fail, in order that she may arrange accommodations. Mrs. Max A. Hostetter of Shelton, Neb., president of the state auxiliary to the International Mothers' Day association, sends in the protest of Miss Anna Jarvis, founder of "Mothers' Day" and president of the association, to the sale of flowers for hospitals, orphanages and other charities in connection with this day. "The international association," she writes, "is opposed to any one using 'mothers' day' for solicitation of any kind, if any one has the right, it is this association, and we have never asked the public for money." Mr. Ralph Sheafe, with the Luther Burbank exhibit at the Auditorium, will speak on "Trees and Shrubs" at the Arbor day program which has been provided by the conservation committee of the Omaha Woman's club. Musical numbers will be rendered by Miss Hattie Predmestky and Mr. Marcus Neilzen. Mrs. William Berry is chairman of the committee. Y. W. C. A. Notes. Miss Lilly M. Strong, general secretary, will be the speaker at the Sunday afternoon vespers service at 4:30. There will be special music and the usual social hour, with light refreshments, following the meeting. All young women of the city will be very cordially welcomed. On Monday evening there will be a "Summer Hill farm reunion." As many of the "stunts" of days at the farm as are possible will be repeated and the guests will be those who spent any time at the association summer home last year. The tennis court across from the building is being put into shape for playing. Registrations should be made at the association office. COMMERCE PUPILS VISIT LOCAL BAKING PLANTS About 150 local industry students of the High School of Commerce, accompanied by Messrs. Gifford, Berry, Burford, Brot and Drummond, all teachers at the school, spent Friday forenoon in visiting the plants of J. Burns Baking Powder company and Iten Biscuit company. It was an interested group of boys and girls that were shown about the buildings and explained the methods employed in producing the bakery articles for market. The pupils took their notebooks along, since they are required to write an account of their trip, telling of the industry and of its importance in Omaha. These stories are graded as a part of the months' work. The idea of these excursions is to keep the pupils in the closest possible touch with the industrial conditions of the city. Omaha business men have manifested much interest in the "know Omaha" classes, and have encouraged the pupils to visit their firms whenever possible. HIGH SCHOOL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR At the annual meeting Friday evening of the Omaha High school club made up of Bible students in the Young Men's Christian association who are organized to create and maintain high standards of character among high school boys, these new officers were elected: Edwin Gould, president; John Sunderland, vice president; Edward Farley, secretary; Philip Thomas, treasurer. Although the club's Bible study course will end next Friday, it was decided to continue the meetings through May and secure prominent speakers for weekly addresses. Dean Charles Fordyce of the teachers' college of the university of Nebraska will be the first speaker, on Friday, May 1. OMAHA MANUFACTURERS MAY MAKE EXHIBIT TRIP American Trade Tour company, through W. E. Bock, is working up a trade excursion to Central and South America. The plan is being worked in the other big trade centers of the United States, the plan being to sail from New York, October 14, next. The expenses of the trip will be $2,000 to $2,500 per man, but this charge will include the use of 100 square feet on ship board for exhibits that will be carried along. Mr. Bock expects to book four or five of the leading manufacturers of Omaha, they going upon the theory that by making the trip they will be able to find a new field for their goods and wares. The trip will be of 120 days' duration. Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns. The Wisdom and Experience of 16 Years In the Dry Cleaning and Dyeing business it is something worth putting your trust in. Experience always discounts experiments—and experiments are bad for your clothes. It is almost impossible to make a good printing cut from a dim or blurred photograph. Very often our artist can, by retouching the copy, restore some of the picture value, and in a great many cases can make improvements even in the best of photographs. Bee Engravings Are building up an enviable reputation for good printing. Every day we receive words of praise for cuts that have pleased our customers. We try to make every engraving turned out of our plant speak a good word for us. If you have been paying out your good money for inferior work, now is the time to make a change. We have thousands of good photograph negatives filed away from which you may select some good subject to illustrate your ideas. Write and tell us your wants, perhaps we can help you. Castles Are Coming to Show Omaha Dances

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, dancers for the 400, and undoubtedly the highest paid dancers in the world today, are making a special whirlwind tour of the principal cities of the country, giving exhibitions of modern dances as they should be danced. They will appear at the Auditorium Thursday, May 7. This will be their only appearance here, as their tour is limited to twenty cities, and they only stay one afternoon and one night in each city. The Castles are traveling in a private car, with a special train to carry their orchestra and a corps of "student dancers" who assist them. Since the first craze for dancing began with the Russian importations there has been nothing like the sensation that has been caused by Vernon and Irene Castle. These two, after a success in New York that has been unprecedented, are making this tour in the belief that the public at large, which loves dancing, will wish to see the modern dances performed as they should be performed. A great share of the public knows of the much-discussed tango only as it is done in vaudeville and in dance halls by people who really know very little of the dance. The Castles have elevated the standards of dancing to the highest possible plane, and those who once thought the tango naughtily have changed their minds after seeing the Castles. Furthermore, they do five other modern dances and Mr. Castle will give a little lecture on the proper way to dance. In New York the Castles have become such favorites that their own establishment, known as "Castle House," where tango teas are given every afternoon, has become the rendezvous of polite society. Here the wives and daughters of millionaires have been able to dance in an exclusive atmosphere, as they realized that the Castles were the dancers par excellence of the entire profession. Their dancing here will be a revelation.

the home of Mrs. M. S. Reynolds, Mrs. George Covell will speak on "What Women Have Done with the Vote," and Mrs. E. D. Craighead will talk on "The Woman of Tomorrow." Vocal numbers will be rendered by Miss Louise Bratton. All women planning to attend the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Chicago are asked to notify Mrs. T. J. Gist of Falls City, the state secretary, without fail, in order that she may arrange accommodations. Mrs. Max A. Hostetter of Shelton, Neb., president of the state auxiliary to the International Mothers' Day association, sends in the protest of Miss Anna Jarvis, founder of "Mothers' Day" and president of the association, to the sale of flowers for hospitals, orphanages and other charities in connection with this day. "The international association," she writes, "is opposed to any one using 'mothers' day' for solicitation of any kind, if any one has the right, it is this association, and we have never asked the public for money." Mr. Ralph Sheafe, with the Luther Burbank exhibit at the Auditorium, will speak on "Trees and Shrubs" at the Arbor day program which has been provided by the conservation committee of the Omaha Woman's club. Musical numbers will be rendered by Miss Hattie Predmestky and Mr. Marcus Neilzen. Mrs. William Berry is chairman of the committee. Y. W. C. A. Notes. Miss Lilly M. Strong, general secretary, will be the speaker at the Sunday afternoon vespers service at 4:30. There will be special music and the usual social hour, with light refreshments, following the meeting. All young women of the city will be very cordially welcomed. On Monday evening there will be a "Summer Hill farm reunion." As many of the "stunts" of days at the farm as are possible will be repeated and the guests will be those who spent any time at the association summer home last year. The tennis court across from the building is being put into shape for playing. Registrations should be made at the association office. COMMERCE PUPILS VISIT LOCAL BAKING PLANTS About 150 local industry students of the High School of Commerce, accompanied by Messrs. Gifford, Berry, Burford, Brot and Drummond, all teachers at the school, spent Friday forenoon in visiting the plants of J. Burns Baking Powder company and Iten Biscuit company. It was an interested group of boys and girls that were shown about the buildings and explained the methods employed in producing the bakery articles for market. The pupils took their notebooks along, since they are required to write an account of their trip, telling of the industry and of its importance in Omaha. These stories are graded as a part of the months' work. The idea of these excursions is to keep the pupils in the closest possible touch with the industrial conditions of the city. Omaha business men have manifested much interest in the "know Omaha" classes, and have encouraged the pupils to visit their firms whenever possible. HIGH SCHOOL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR At the annual meeting Friday evening of the Omaha High school club made up of Bible students in the Young Men's Christian association who are organized to create and maintain high standards of character among high school boys, these new officers were elected: Edwin Gould, president; John Sunderland, vice president; Edward Farley, secretary; Philip Thomas, treasurer. Although the club's Bible study course will end next Friday, it was decided to continue the meetings through May and secure prominent speakers for weekly addresses. Dean Charles Fordyce of the teachers' college of the university of Nebraska will be the first speaker, on Friday, May 1. OMAHA MANUFACTURERS MAY MAKE EXHIBIT TRIP American Trade Tour company, through W. E. Bock, is working up a trade excursion to Central and South America. The plan is being worked in the other big trade centers of the United States, the plan being to sail from New York, October 14, next. The expenses of the trip will be $2,000 to $2,500 per man, but this charge will include the use of 100 square feet on ship board for exhibits that will be carried along. Mr. Bock expects to book four or five of the leading manufacturers of Omaha, they going upon the theory that by making the trip they will be able to find a new field for their goods and wares. The trip will be of 120 days' duration. Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns. The Wisdom and Experience of 16 Years In the Dry Cleaning and Dyeing business it is something worth putting your trust in. Experience always discounts experiments—and experiments are bad for your clothes. When we clean any garment it's clean through and through—all dust removed, spots gone, color and life of goods revived, wrinkles pressed out—and you will be surprised at its new appearance. It is almost impossible to make a good printing cut from a dim or blurred photograph. Very often our artist can, by retouching the copy, restore some of the picture value, and in a great many cases can make improvements even in the best of photographs.
